In the last decade of scouting—and, yes, sometimes stalking—our favorite homes in Dallas, we've uncovered modern beauties, traditional estates, cozy bungalows, and every style in between. Just when we thought we'd seen it all, we hit the streets looking for more inspiring design. With the windows rolled down, iPhone cameras in hand, and pencils and pads on the dash, we clocked in miles of research. The edit team gathered to passionately campaign for our favorites, and we narrowed down the list to the 10 best in town.

WHY WE LOVE IT: Coming home to this Spanish eclectic beauty is like pulling up to a vacation home. Every day. In fact, the homeowners modeled the design after the Four Seasons Resort The Biltmore Santa Barbara. They worked with builder Newport Group, architect Bob Anderson, and landscape designer Bluebonnet Landscape Creations to make their California dreams come true. "We love its red tile roof, white stucco, and timeless look," the homeowner explains. "Our architect helped us to pull off the vision just as we had hoped."
